CARRIER'S ADDRESS TO THE PATE ONS Of the Fort Manne Sentinel.

January 1st, 1858. 'Tis midnight, and the sable gloom Of darkness covers earth and sky, As shroudings upon nature's tomb, Concealing where past errors lie.

'Tis midnight, and the goblins keep Their frightful revels, thought unreat, And shapes and shades, that never sleep, Now their fautastic forms, reveal.

Tis midnight, and each clement, Whose discord jars the hours of day, Is as some kind peace spirit sent To gently while the time away,

'Tis midnight, and the weari'd son Of toil has laid him down to rest,

'Tis miduight, and the mother's prayer is breath'd in accents soft and low; And, echoing through the realms of air, From angels' voices seem to flow. 'Tis midnight, and the lover's sigh, Wrung from his anguish'd heart is hush'd; The tear which trembles in his eye, Bespeaks his fondest hopes now crushed.

"Tis midnight, and the maiden dreams
The blissful dream of early love,
And, smiling in her sleep, she seems
Commingling with the spheres above.

God grant she may not wake to pain, But when her brilliant eyes unclose, Egeria of the soul remain, And life will be a thornicss rose.

²Tis midnight, and the miser still Is tossing on his couch of pain. His sleepless avarice cries, fill, Fill up the money bags again. The clink of gold he starts to hear.

Then frighted from his pallet leaps, Frenzied and trembling with fear. Proceeds to count the glit'ring heaps 'Tis midnight, and the banker's hand, Still ceaseless plies the willing pen, Signing his bills adroidy plan'd, Long to deceive his fellow men.

Tis midnight, and the child of want, The dreadful pangs of hunger know, While famine like a spectre gaunt, Flits round his wretched couch of woc.

Her babe is nestling to her breast, It murmurs now the father's name. Its little lips to hers are press'd— Oh: how can she that father blame. Her fond affection now recalls
The time when she became his bride,
Together fow'd, what e'er befalls.
They'd cleave unto each other's side.

Where is he? With companions gay, Quaffing his cups of rosy wine; Or worse than this, perhaps he lay, Enfolded by some concubine.

'Tis midnight, and a holy calm, Rests on this sin-polluted earth, And we should pray the great. I am, In peace to give the New Year birth.

Another year, and 'ere the close, Disease, by its infectious breath, May wither from our cheeks the rode. And bring us face to face with death.

'Tis midnight, and the passing year Is silent trembling to an end Its grave is time's great sepulchre, Its requiem, the sighing wind.

The midnight and the power of sleep in solemn stillness wraps mankind,— The printer, he alone must keep, The faithful vigil of the mind. 'Tis midnight, and the early morn, Will break upon another day.

But things at home our care should claim,
If wrong or right 'tis all the same;
I faithfully would chron'cle,
Each public act as it befoil:
Our city taxes raised a muss,
A war of words sustain'd the fuss;
Such weapons, harmlest all agree,
Were ended by Felo-de se.
For Codrad Nill, long used to Vamps,
On Moses' buggy put his clamps;

And now was beard war's dread alarms,
But quickly Moses grounded arms,
Fut quickly Mose

The idea of this prison dread;
Unto an armistice soon led,

Unto an armistics soon led,
When they adjourn'd, and, as I hear,
Drown'd fell hate in lager beer;
And Mother Shilling says that when
They left, they were all skentiemen. Between two knights of quilt not exercifurner and Dawson they were named, And editors, to be, both claimed. A broken note the one receiv'd, The other of dollars was reliev'd. To Reub and Juhn I fain would raise My voice, and speak of other days,— Would call to mind the happy time They brothers were in prose and rhyme, When each a kindred pen did wiele,

On evening late, I chanced along— Being out at such an hour was wrong, But still, as I obey'd the laws. But still, as I obey'd the laws.
You cannot question of the cause—
While passing by Furnival's fan,
Where ghostly shades go out and in,
As I came near a dark stairway.
Up which Smith and Steevens stay,
(And Irom their shingle's terms I draw
The fact that they both practice law,)
A sound was floating on the air,
It quickly caught my list hing ear,
'Twas music: softly sweet and low,
'Thu grente members seem'd to flow.'' "The gentle members seem'd to flow,"
It was not Por Gus's voice I ween.
For coarse and busky 'twoid have been
Nor Stevens, for his only time,
Is Hundred older than the moon. Is mundred outer than the moon. I fancied from the heavinly air. Some Del Toboso prisoned there, And Quivote like, prepared to find. This being of angelic kind. For movic,—you can quote the rest,—Is claim d to "soothe the savage breast, Will pause the harp's wild chim? to he The stairway I essayed to clim?, My steps to ev'ry note kept time. The sounds proceeded from a door, I entered, and I stood before The true PENDAGORA BOYS, and they Singing their evining roundelay.

It was a song of home: my heart

Was 'spell-bound and the tears did start," As they portrayed the wailings wild Of 'mother o'er the truant child,"
Long may they still each other greet,
And nightly in their loved retreat
Such strains as those I heard repeat.
But, as I hear. Pendagger boys
Are seeking other social joye.
And that certain damsels fuir,
Will soon receive Pendaggers' care.
All have yielded to Love's powers,
And anyions, wait the bridal hours. All have yielded to Lave's powers, And anxious wait the bridal hours. For what are daggers when his dart, Is piereing each devoted heart. They smiled in very bliss, and then Said to God Cupid, pierce again: Like-Anthony they may in common Sacrilloc themselves for woman.

Within our prosp'rous commonwealth, The past year was a time of health. Happiness throughout her al ounds, And plenty all her borders crowns, to that God whose providence Thanks to that God whose providence. It is rich blessings to dispense. Old Uncle Sam is getting on Well, at that place called Washington: It makes all the nations wonder, To hear his democratic thunder. His Congress slowly plots its way, Eight dollars they secure per day, Or I mistake the truth, I fear, Three thousand they now get per year; But Uncle Sam has got one child, Reballious, reckless, warward, wild— But Uncle Sam has got one child, Rebellious, rockless, wayward. wild-Hils name is Utah This young laddy Has raised his hand against his daddy. And swears by Joe Smith the prophet, Uncle Sam may go to Tephet. Within the city of Salt Lake, A strong and sure defence he'll make; But Jim Buck, his dander rising. Thinks that it is most suprising. How this young scape grate ever dates To take upon himself such airs: Starts Harney and Captain Coggin To take upon himself such airs: Starts Harney and Captain Goggin To give this mad-cap a flogging.

I much fear this Kansas bubble, I much tear this kanas outlook, is to give our nation trouble; Black Republicans are doing All they can to keep it brewing. And you that white men must give place To Mubians—a darker race. To Nubinas...a darker race.
And recently the chons saucy,
Are calling Steve Danglass "Massa."
It is now the calculation
He wants to rule this great nation:
But I have learn'd it, when a lad,
Whom Gods destroy, they first make mad.
I yet have hopes the Little Giant,
Greely will not find so pliant,
But as in other days pass'd by,
He'll cling to the Democracy.

Our city's destined to become The greatest in all Hoosierdom. Improvements rise on every hand Like Castles in enchanted land. Still Brimstone Corner, by the byc. Strives ev'ry other to outrie, And if you go to Miller's Hall, George loudly for a snort will call.

The ladies, bless their pretty faces, Are ready to receive embraces:
And daily some of our leases
To the joys of wedlock passes;
While others always waiding stand, And rest not 'till their fitly mann'd.
God grant all, if they wish a mate, Forbid that they should longer wait.

The Commissioner's report presents a most gratifying view of the progress of the surveying system. The work of laying off and subdividing the public lands, in tracts suitable to farms, and looking to the great agricultural interest of the country has been completed in some, and nearly so in others of the States of Michigan, Illino's, Arkansas, Missouri and Louisiana. It has advanced as far South in Florida as the protracted Indian hostilities in that region would allow, and been extended so far over lowa and Wisconsing as will soon place these in the category of States in which the U. S. surveying machinery will be withdrawn, and the archives turned over, as required by law, to the State authorities. Remissioner sketches the progress of the system in the new fields opened by law. Beginning with Minnesota we find the lines of the public surveys extended to the 47th parallel of North latitude, on the Northwestern shore of Lake Superior, and along the Mississippi on both sides.

In Kansas and Nebraska the surveying webwork is already extended over an area equal to some 300 miles from North to South by 100 East

On the Pacific slope the surveys have been pushed forward with extraordinary rapidity upwards of 80,000 miles have been executed in California, at the expense of a million of dollars Linked in with these public surveys are what are known as "Private Land Claims," under final confirmations, in some instances, by decrees of the United States District Court, or by decrees of the United States District Court, or of the Board of Land Commissioners, where, in the last two classes, the decrees have become final

In 1836, when applications were made by cansas and Michigan for Admission into the Union that three fourths were taken for actual settlement.

Upon comparison of the foregoing with the statistics of the last annual report, it is found that the lands sold and located during the five quarters, ending September 30, 1857, fall short of the quantity sold and located during the period he has been in his late message on the Kansas and Michigan for Admission into the Unides as States, the objection was made that no enargh the state of Congress had been passed prior to these applications. During and since the year 1850, grants of land have been made to ten States and one Territory, to aid them in the constsuction of fifty railroads, or an extent of 8,647 miles. thers, and oppose any policy that would allow a monopoly in the hands of speculators. Upon this subject he used the following language:

The wisdom of the pre-emption policy is no longer the subject of controcersy. It is established by the history of every neighborhood and settlement throughout the West. This is said in full view of the fact that many fraudulent pre-emption claims are estrblished by evasion and prejury, and that such will be the case even under the most diligent administration or this and the local offices; especially during period, such as that through which we have recently passed, when the spirit of speculation as posses; sion of the public mind. But this class of cases, when compared with the great body of honest claims, made by men living upon the lands, is 'o' inconsiderable to weigh against our policy. The title to the lands should pass immediately from the government to the men who are to cultivate the soil. So far as it may be avoided the speculator should not be allowed to intervene.

With a view to uniformity and practicability in the system, important amendments of the preemption laws are recommended.

The report shows an activity in our surveying operations during the five quarters ending 30th September, 1857, beyond that of any preceding period, and that the quantity of new lands now liable to be disposed of exceeds, by many mill ions of acres, the surveyed lands of any former period.

The quantity of land surveyed and ready for market and not advertised for public sale, exclusive of lands withdrawn on account of railroad sive of lands withdrawn on account of railro grants embraces an area of 57,442,876 acres. Of this quantity there was surveyed and returned, during the five quarters ending Sept.

Governor Medary, in his late message to interpretation of the Kansas Act:

it becomes its duty, to inquire whether it is republican in its organization, according to the meaning of that term as applied to the principles and practices of our Government from the beginning. But it has neither the pover nor right to prescribe the mode by which the people shall arrive at that organization. Any other conclusion would preclude the idea of equality; because the equality of States does not mean being equal in size and strength, or similar in domestic policy, equal in the rights reserved to the State and the people in their sovereign capacity,"

-Washington, Dec 29. The War Department to-day received official dispatches from the headquarters of the army for Utah, dated Black's Fork, three miles below Ham's Fork, November 5.

Colonel Johnson states that Colonel Smith, with his command and the numerous trains guarded by it, reached there on the 3d of Normber. Their march was slow and tedious, averaging eleven miles a day. Although the road was excellent and the weather fine, it was not possible to make more rapid progress on account of the broken down condition of the draft animals of the trains, including the the settlers and merchants destined for Salt Loke, which he would not allow to go on. They were occupied in as close manner as they could be made to ravel, in a space of six miles.

Occupying, as they do, an attitude of rebellion and open defiance to the Government, connected with numerous other acts of treason, Colonel Johnston reiterates the necessity for prompt and vigorous action, or the United State must submit to the usurpation of their territory. Full directions accompanying each box; and all roll directions accompanying erch box; and all that is requisite is strictly to observe them, and a cure is certain to follow.

The proprietor refers to the following testimonials from gentlemen of character and standing, who have voluntarily given their certificates in its layor in created to its efficacy in their own cases. Read them.

The following is from one of the most reliable. The following is from one of the most reliable citizens of Chicago, the late Treasurer of Cook

Chicago, July 25, 1855. Dr. Cavanaugh: - Dear Sir. - I wish hereby nake known to the officied that I have been the ed with the Piles for twenty years and upwards, id ar times most severely. And during a recent and ar times most severely. And during a and exceedingly painful attack a friend proc box of your Salve, and asked me to give it a trial. I did so; not however with the expectation of benefit ting my disease, for truly, I had tried so many annimations I had lost confidence in all. But in making use of your Salve, I soon found that if was doing negood; and really it is incredible to myself, that with good; and really it is incredible to myself, that with mly about two weeks' use of your Salve, I am far as I can judge a well man.

I most cheerfully make this statement, believing t due both to yourself and such as may be afflicted with this most painf land trying disease. I do not hesitate to say that I consider your preparation an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Most sincerely yours,

N. HEALD.

Most sincerely yours, The Hon. Richard Yates, late member of Congress rom the Springfield, Ill., district, says; Jacksonville, H., Nov. 15, 1855. Jacksonville, H., Rov. 15, 1855.
Dr. Thop. II. Cavanaugh. Dear Sir.—The preparation, Cavanaugh's Pile Silve, which you furnished, I found of great service, producing an easy and speedy cure. I de not hesitate to recommend it assan invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Though the idea that Alexander Hamilton was the secret counsellor and guide of Washing ton is by no means new, it has never probably leen put forward in so authentic and authoritoti c a shape as this. It will behave the friends of General Washington to inquire cerefully into the facts and authorities, or the homage paid by Americans of all ages and parties must bereafter be divided. There are very good prima facie grounds in support of the case which John C. Hamilton proposes to make out. It is well known that the organization of the administrative departments of government were the work of Hamilton. It is generally conceded that he wrote the Farewell Address All biographers have admitted that his counsel was sought by Washington before taking and important step Now, if, besides these, we are shown letters and proofs establishing still closer relations between him and Washington, and still greater influence on the part of Hamilton, it will be high time to pay honor to whom honor is due, and at least to set up one statute of Hamilton for every three of Washington - N Y Heruld

A New Remedy for Cholera.—A late number of the London Mechanics' Magazine contains a letter from Henry McCormack, M. Possibly, as we are deprived of the profits resulting from gigantic factories, so also are we free from their fluctuations. Probably the terrible lessons which our country learned at so rearful a price in former visitations wrought their effect, and we are wiser and better men. Thanks be to God, our harvests were great What trade we have is steady; our people have abundant work : the necessaries of life are chean We are informed that thousands of our peasantry who left our famine stricken land some years ago, are threatening to return Let them come; they will be welcome. We shall find work for Glad, only too glad, shall we be if, in the Western land they sought and now fly from, they have learned industry and prudence.

A Human Devil. - A letter from Washington D. C., of the 15th, says: Yesterday afternoon a brutal murder was perpetrated upon the person of Mrs. Hall, living n Alexandria, Va, between five and six n ics from this city. It appears that while Mr. 11all was temporarily absent from his residence, and other white members of the family were attending church, a slave woman named Jenny, the property of Mr. Hall, put a lot of dry plank on the fire. Mrs Hall ordered her to take it off. The negro obeyed, but soon after threw the wood The negro obeyed, but soon after threw the wood on again. Mrs. Hall then repeated her orders, when the vile wretch seized her mistress, pressed down her head, and backed her into the fire. Three or four times did the unfortunate women break loose from her fiendish a-sailant, but was as often everpowered, and Mrs. Hall was finally forced into the fire. used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: there-fore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it. A WORD TO THE LADIES. Inrecommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Col-abra ted Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that ws a simulant to the system, in imparting strength and viger, preparatory to periodical stages, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we k ow of no properation more happily adapted to il afflictions consequent upon this cause, and fo crampts in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c. it is certain and alwost ins tantancyus remedy, and no family should be with

One wineglassful taken three times each before male, ar half the buantity if the patients are in weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally sasisfied of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial.

OF CAUTION 21 1

Carefulness should be onf study, but more parti-ularly when the health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so possilar; there have been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters, and often represented to be the same in virtue as Dr. Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Of the Fort Wanne Sentinel January 1st, 1858.

'Tis midnight, and the sable gloom Of darkness covers earth and sky, As shroudings upon nature's tomb, Concealing where past errors lio.

The midnight, and the goblins keep.
Their frightful revels, thought unreal;
And shapes and shades, that never sleep,
Now their fantastic forms reveal.

Tis midnight, and each clement, To gently while the time away. 'Tis midnight, and the weari'd son Of toil has laid him down to rest.

consciousness of duty done is soothing to his manly breast. 'Tis miduight, and the mother's prayer
Is breath'd in accents soft and low:
And, echoing through the realms of air,
From angels' voices seem to flow.

'Tis midnight, and the lover's sigh,
Wrung from his anguish'd heart is hush'd;
The tear which trembles in his eye,
Bespeaks his fondes; hopes now crushed. The blissful dreams of early love,
And, smiling in her sleep, she seems
Comminging with the spheres above.

God grant she may not wake to pain,
But when her brilliant eyes unclose,
Egeria of the soul remain,
And life will be a thornless rose. The midnight, and the miser still is tossing on his couch of pain.

His sleepless avarice cries, fill, Fill up the money bags again. The clink of gold he starts to hear.

Then frighted from his pallet leaps,
Frenzied and trembling with fear. Proceeds to count the glit'ring heaps

Tis midnight, and the banker's hand, Still ceaseless plies the willing pen, Signing his bills adroitly plan'd, Long to deceive his fellow men.

Tis midnight, and the child of want. The dreadful pang: of hunger know, While famine like a spectre gaunt, Flitsround his wretched couch of woe. 'Tis midnight, and the wife's alone, With aching heart and moist ned eye. Her thoughts are on the absent one, I'llo once lov'd at her side to lie. Her babe is nesiling to her breast, It murmurs now the father's name.

Its little lips to hers are press'd—
Oh ! how can she that father blame

Her fond affection now recalls

The time when she became his bride,
Together fow'd, what e'er befalls.

They'd cleave unto each other's side.

Where is he? With companions gay,

Quaffing his cups of rosy wine; r. worse than this, perhaps he lay; Enfolded by some concubine. 'Tie midnight, and a holy caim, Rests on this sin-polluted earth, And we should pray the great. I am, In peace to give the New Year birth.

Another year, and 'ere the close. Disease, by its infectious breath, May wither from our cheeks the rose. And bring us face to face with death.

'Tis midnight, and the passing year The midnight and the power of sleep In solemn stillness wraps mankind,

The printer, he alone must keep.

The faithful vigit of the mind. Tis midnight, and the early morn, Will break upon another day.
Whon eighteen fifty eight is born,
And fifty seven passed away.

But things at home our care should claim, If wrong or right 'tis all the same; I faithfully would chroniclo. Each public act as it befoll: Each public act as it befoll.
Our city taxes raised a muss,
A war of words sustain and the fuss;
Such weapons, harinlesd all agree,
Were unded by Felo-de ss.
For Courad Nill, long used to Yamps,
On Moses' buggy put his claimps;
Then Satan was to pay; fof soon
Injunctions brought poor Conrad down.
But Moegait awore "bs jabers! he,
In spite of all mortality.
Would force Lobiolly's son to pay
Though flends and sheriffs barr'd the way."
And now was heard war's dread alarms, fint quickly Moses grounded arms, But quickly Moses grounded arms, . Pull'd out his purse amid the din, Pull'd our his purse ama the did.
And quietty fork'd up the tim.
But on! ingratitude, thy curse
Almost suspends the poet's verse,
Thy hellish power e'en devils fear
And tremble when they see thee near. And tremote when they see thee near.
When Mesgan Tom had done his duty,
The city pocket date booty;
And his reward, I scarce can speak,
With shame it crimsons or ry cheek-With shame it crimsons every check— lie was dismiss'd by Council grave, And Captain Stewart gave his place. Reflect, dear reader, of the cause, And, while you're thinking, I will pause listill conjecture 's at a loss." Foor Meegan bowed before the cross; And this was all against him brought, "He loved the faith his fathers taught."

For the reform of erring man.

The good of souls they have as field,
And each propose to save a part.
One preacher recently here came.
I think that Banager is his name. I think that Barry is his name—
In the court house, by the way,
Ile labors on the sabbath day.
And as, I hope to be forgiven,
He's built a railroad straight to Heaven,
Put on the cars, and crys "aboard!
Ye are all children of the Lord,
And ey'ry one of Adam's race
At his right hand shall have a piace."
This blessed doctrine will, if true,
Patrons, save both I and you;
But if his car should leaye the track,
Oh, what a time we'll have, good lack!
None the dreadful and can tell,
For we may landed be in Hel!!

Churche are doing all they can

Some time ago our Council thought
A fire-engine should be bought:
They gathered to their den, and long
The conclave echoed voices strong;
I fancied that the very earth
To Pandemonium had given birth.
Awhile I listened to the clatter,
Then sought to ascertain the matter:
Enter'd the hall, and what I saw
Was not of Gospel, neither law-Pratt, Billy, stood upon the floor,
In height about six feet or more.

He pitched into a man, who bore form like Cassius of vor-They called him Orff, and lank and lean At number 3 he may be seen. When Bill the scorpion lash applied, vo nen bill the scorpion lash applied, Christian laid his shawl aside, Assumed the passon

Assumed the perpendicular—
And then began to saw the air—
When brother John to back him, rose,
But soon encountered other foes,
For Webb spring up, and made them feel
The force of his well pointed steel. They said, "niz fursta, shentlemen," Vordermark with placed mien.

To Napoleon at Waterloo! Putuam, unlike his sire of old. Who lov'd to face the British bold. Sought out a way to save his life,
Under the table crept and lay,
Like Falstaff at an earlier day.
M'Kinley, who had sat the while,
Limped to his feet and with a smile
Exclaimed, on both sides he would be.
And yield to each fidelity.
Both, who in business shrewd and sharp, The Mayor rose, insuame was coos-tellyou, reader, he's a hors— Rap, rap, rap! came down his mace, Rapskallions! each one to his place; He called on Pat, and Pat replied: "Yer honor, I am by yees side— By Gambo! with shillatch, I

The idea of this prison dread; Unto an armistice soon led,
When they adjourn'd, and, as I hear,
Drown'd fell hate in lager beer;
And Mother Shilling says that when
They left, they were all shentlemen.

An attercation late occurr'd, Between two knights of quill not sword Turiur and Dawson they were named, And editors, to be, both claimed. A broken no-e the one receiv'd, The other of dollars was relier'd. To Rub and John I fain would raise My voice, and speak of other days,—Would call to mind the happy time They brothers were in prose and rhyme, When each a kindred pen did wiele, When Johnny's breast was Reuben's shiel When 'Johnny's breast was Reuben's shield. On creating late, I chanced along-Reing out at such an hour was wrong, But still, as I obey'd the laws. White passing by Furnicul's Inc., Where glostly shades go out and in, As I camenear a dark stairway. Up which Smith and Steevens stay, (And from their shingle's terms I draw The fact that they both practice law,) A sound was floating on the air, It quickly caught my list ning oar, Twas music: softly sweet and low "The gentle members seem'd to flow,"
It was not Por Gun's voice I ween.
For coarse and husky 'twould have been: for Steevens, for his only tune, s Hundred older than the moon fancied from the heavinly air one Del Toboso prisoned the And Quixote like, prepared to find This being of angelic kind, For musle,—you can quote the rest,— Is claim'd to "soothe the savage breast," That even beasts its voice obey'd : Will pause the harp's wild chime to hear."
The stairway I essayed to climb,
My steps to ev'ry note kept time. I entered, and I stood before
The true Persoacea Bovs, and they
Singing their evining roundeday.
It was a song, of home: my heart
Wost spell-bound, and the tears did start,
As they portrayed the waitings wild
Off inother over the truant child,
Lone may they still each other meet entered and I stood before Long may they still each other greet, And nightly in their loved retreat Such strains as those I heard repeat. But, as I hear. Pendagger boys Are seeking other social juys. And that certain damsels fair,

Said to God Cupid, pierce again: Like Anthony they may in common Sacrifice themselves for woman. Within our prosp rous common wealth, The past year was a time of health: Happiness throughout her abounds, And plenty all her borders crowns, ks to that God whose providence It is rich blessings to dispense.
Old Uncle Sam is getting on
Well, at that place called. Washington It makes all the nations wonder, To hear his democratic thunder. Ills Congress slowly plods its way, Eight dollars they secure per day, Or I mistake the truth, I fear, Or I mistake the truth, I fear,
Three thousand they now get per year;
But Uncle Sam has got one child,
Rebellious, rockless, wayward, wild—
His name is Utah This young laddy
Has raised his hand against his daddy.
And swears by Joe Snith the prophet,
Uncle Sam may go to Tophet.
Within the city of Salt Lake,
A strong and sure defence he'll make;
But Jim Back, his dander rising,
Thinks that it is most suprising. Thinks that it is most suprising, How this young some grace ever dated To take upon himself such airs: Starts Harney and Captain, Goggin To give this mad-cap a flogging.

Will soon receive Pendaggers' care.

All have yielded to Love's powers, And anxious wait the bridal hours. For what are daugers when his dart, is piercing each devoted lieart: They smiled in very bliss, and then

I much fear this Kansas bubble, Is to give our nation trouble; Black Republicans are doing All they can to keep it brewing.
And yow that white men must give place
To Nubians—a darker race.
And recently the choins saucy,
Are calling Steve Douglass "Massa." He wants to rule this great nation: But I have learn'd it, when a lad, Whom Gods destroy, they first make mad. I yet have hopes the Little Giant, Greely will not find so pliant, But as in other days pass'd by, He'll cling to the Democracy.

Our city's destined to become The greatest in all Hoosierdom. Improvements rise on every hand Like Castles in enchanted land. Still Brimstone Corner, by the byc. Strives ev'ry other to outvic. And if you go to Miller's Hall, George loudly for a snort will call.

The ladies, bless their pretty faces, Are ready to receive embraces: And daily some of our lasses. To the joys of wedlock passes: While others always waiting stand, And rest not 'till their fitty mann'd. God grant all, if they wish a mate, Porbid that they should longer wait. And when the newsboy shall in turn come to feel love's voing ardor burn. Come to feel love's young ardor burn, May he amid the passion's power Obtain a wife with fitting dower.

Of city courts we have many—
Ifidge Dubois' is good as any—
He is blind, and as he onghter
Runs his justice mill by icater.
Stevens, who ne'er takes the drops,
Greases the wheels of his with schaappe.
And Saunders—but why tell the tale—
Sets his to grinding with good ale.
Bloomhuff, who is fat and frisky,
Puts his in motion with rye whisky.
The Mayor's is somewhat more fine,
The motive power of it is wine. The motive power of it is wine. Borden's surely beats them all, And we it a hamode do call. Specially when he gets splurgin.
The court looks like a mighty sturgeon.

The Zebra lately went to lodge. With a critter they call him Dodge, is Democracy began to wince, And has been stagg'ring ever sinco.

But, patrons, you may think it wrong This annual lay so to prolong. We meet again this happy morn, And from our grateful souls return Thanks unto God that he did spare Us to behold another year. I have not sought to poetize, But only to doggerelize;
If this don't please you, why mend it,
And then to any friend send it:
But if it dees—A QUARTER GIVE, And memory, while I shall live, Will ponder on the act with joy, Remaining yours,
The Carrier Boy.

Kansas -The news from this lawless and rowdy region this week is interesting. It will be seen that the free state men refused to vote on the constitution, and the constitution with slavery has been adopted by a large majority, or rather by an almost unanimous vote. Whether the free state men acted wisely in this matter we will not stop to enquire. Wisdom, any more than patriotism, forms no part in the composition of Kansas politicians. They have by their neglect allowed Kansas to be made a slave state (if the constitution is received by Congress) when they could have come into the Union as a free state.

The election is said to have been a mere farce; hundreds of frandulent votes were placed on the poll lists, far exceeding, it is said, the whole actual population in many of the precincts; hordes of Missouri ruffians openly came over and were allowed to vote; and yet judging from the returns already in, it probably did not poll one fourth of the actual vote of the territory. Such are the report. Kansas news, we are aware, ought to be received with due allowance, and is seldom to be relied upon; but we are inclined to think there may be some trnth in what is changed—it is in perfect keeping with the whole past Kansas history. ๒๐ โดยปี เสียกลากสดีเกม รู้ เพิ่มพิสตุ คนุย it, had declared that it contained no crystals

The extra session of the Kansas Legislature has adjourned. It passed a law submitting the Lecompton constitution to a vote of the people on Monday next the 5th inst, in three forms 1st, constitution with slavery; 2d, constitution without slavery; 3d, against the constitution .-A very stringent election law has been passed providing against frauds and authorizing judges of elections, to be appointed by the governor and speaker of the House. Provisions have been made to have the names of all voters on the 21st taken down by the committee at each precinct so as to counteract and make manifest traudulent returns.

This election, called and authorized by the Legislature, will be as legal and as much entitled to the attention of Congress as the one ordered by the Lecompton Convention, and if it should be fairly and honorably conducted, and voted at by a majority of the citizens of Kansas, will have even stronger claims to be recognized as the actual expression of the popular will. This vote will undoubtedly be adverse to the Lecompton Constitution, and it will as certainly greatly outnumber the vote given at the other election. It Congress recognize this vote; as we think they ought, the whole present difficulty is in speaking of its size, height, and historical at once avoided. They can pass an act authorizing the people of Kansas legally to form a constitution, and after submitting it to the popular books, from the guides who attended us, or from ratification, apply for admission in a regular the German history, which we carry with us and manner. Though the idea that Alexander Hamil'on was the secret counsellor and guide of Washing. ton is by no means new, it has never probably lees put forward in so authentic and authoritati e a shape as this. It will behave the friends of General Washington to inquire carefully into the tasts and authorities, or the homage paid by Americans ot all ages and parties must bereafter be divided, There are very good prima facie grounds in support of the case which John C. Hamilton proposes to make out. It is well known that the organization of the administrative departments of government were the work of Hamilton. It is generally conceded that he wrote the Farewell Address. All biographers have admitted that his counsel was sought by Goods St. 25. have admitted that his counsel was sought by Washington before taking and important step Now, if besides these, we are shown letters and proofs establishing still closer relations between proofs establishing still closer relations between him and Washington, and still greater influence on the part of Hamilton, it will be high time to pay honor to whom honor is due, and at least to pay honor to whom honor is due, and at least to set up one statute of Hamilton for every three of Washington:—N Y Herald

A New Remedy for Cholera .- A late number f the London Mechanics' Magazine contains a letter from Henry McCormack, M. D., physician to the Belfast (Ireland) Cholera Hospital, in which he affirms that sulphuric acid is a remedy for cholera. He says: The clizir of vitriol, spirit and the addition of a little arromatic, is, as keeping always on hand a large and well selected respects obolera, in many cases, the clixir of stock of the little water. which is merely sulphuric acid, de'uded with spirit and the addition of a little arromatic, is, as taken every time the bowels are effected, also every two hours for some time afterwards." Dr. Paints. Varnishe. McCormack also states that the name of the person who introduced this remedy, like that of many other benefactors of his species, is un-This remedy is now common with our physicians on this side of the Atlantic. The first notice of its ellicacy was a recipe given publicly by Dr. Lawrence Reid, of the New York Hospital during the last visitation of cholera in this city We suppose he is the benefactor who is unknown to Dr. McCormack. The dilute sulphuric acid is given in water sweetened with a little sugar, and is attogether a pleasant drink. Take water six parts by measure, sulphuric acid one part, and mix. Twenty-five drops in water is at dose for an adult and according to for an adult, and according to age, from manhood to childhood, subtract a drop for every year. But while sulpnuric acid has heretofore year. But while sulpnuric acid has heretofore sciented in the eastern markets, with special care, by been given as a curative only. Dr. McCormack one of the firm. To this department they direct the has found it to possess preventive qualities also. He employed it for this purpose at the last out-break of cholera in Belfast, and with entire break of cholera in Belinst, and with entire in and about l'ort Wayne to know where to ge success. There is nothing dangerous in the use Pure and Unadultered Medicines: also to know of elixir, vitriol givon in such doses as those where Precriptions can be put up with careaud neat "Unhappy Ireland" no Longer. "One of the Dublin papers thus raises a shout of grateful exultation over the present condition of Ire-We can hardly be grateful enough for the high position our own Ireland holds. Here no banks have stopped payment—nay, by wisely assisting frade, they are paying unheared of dividends. No manufacturing establishments have failed, throwing out of employment numerons hands. The storm reached us and passed over, leaving us unsoathed. Possibly, as we are deprived of the profits resulting from gigantic factories, so also are we free from their fluctuations. Probably the terrible lessons which our country learned at so fearful a price in former visitations wrought their effect; and we are wiser and better men. Thanks be to God, our harvests were great What trade we have is steady; our people have abundant work; the necessaries of life are cheap. We are informed that thousands of our peasantry who left our famine stricken land some years ago, are threatening to return Let them come; they will be welcome. We shall find work for all. Glad, only too glad, shall we be if, in the Western land they sought and now fly from, they have learned industry and prudence.

A Human Devil .- A letter from Washington D.C., of the 15th, says:

Yesterday afternoon a brutal murder was perpetrated upon the person of Mrs. Hall, living n Alexandria, Va; between five and six n ics from this city. It appears that while Mr. Hall was temporarily absent from his residence, and other white members of the family were attending church, a slave woman named Jenny, the property of Mr. Hall, put a lot of dry plank on the fire. Mrs. Hall ordered her to take it off. The negro obeyed, but soon after threw the wood on again. Mrs. Hall then repeated her orders. when the vile wretch seized her mistress, pressed down her head, and backed her into the fire. Three or four times did the unfortunate women break loose from her fiendish a sailant but was us often everpowered, and Mrs. Hall was finally forced into the fire. On the last occasion her screams brought her husband and others to her recough but she died at midnight. I was with difficulty that Mr. Hall could be restrained from shooting the wreich. She was conveyed to difficulty that Mr. Hall could be restrained from shooting the wreich. She was conveyed to prison. The testimony of the dying woman is very intelligent and conclusive. Medical aid was quickly sent for, and no pains were spared to alleviate the sufferings of Mrs. H. before she died.

A-Sad Sight.—The attention of the bachelors is invited to the following 'wail' from the Springdeld Republican. Let them weep for the past, resolve to mend-their ways and improve their condition in future : . . There are some sad sights in this world; a city sacked and burnt-a battlefield after a great slaughter—a London in the midst of a plague a ship burning a sea -a family pining in starvation - a jug of molasses wrecked upon the pavement—a pair of irrevocably damaged pan aloons; but the saddest sight to us of all is an old bache Lr, stolidly walking toward his end, his great duties undone, his shirt buttons off, his stocking in unitarity and burning the second property consists in an old walking toward his end, his great duties undone, his shirt buttons off, his stocking in unitarity and burning taste, and becomes a neutral spirit; the second property consists in an old must be supported to the lighter which out at the toes, and nobedy to leave his money renders it incllow and im aris an appearance of Were we such a man, the mild reproving great age; the third property is exhibited in he are of a widow or maiden ludy would drive us rich vinous nutty odor that is imparted to the mad But there is still hope. Uglier and older men than any of our friends have married beautiful wives, who trained them admirably and spent their money elegently. Children Lest in the Woods.—The sollowing interesting item we clip from the Sanilac Mich. On the 14th inst. three children of a Fren ch-man named Joseph Brotte, in the town of Willow Creek; on Lake Huron, strayed from their father's sharty into, the surrounding woods. They were two girls of eight and six years respectively, and a boy of four. : It was two nights, one whole day, and a part of two others before they were found, and then in a lumber shanty in the woods, in an exhausted condition. The boy had been for some time senseless and speech less and his little sister had laid him out compesing his limbs, supposing him dead, He was restored to partial consciousness, but to die in his mother's arms. The other two were restored without difficulty. Mr Brotte had just moved upon a new lot of land from Canada. The children went into the woods to hunt for wintergreens. A.dog who was taken with a party of men in search of them was the first to discover them. Senator Doug'ass .- The Washington corres-
